A "Blogging General?"

Description

After all the fits and starts and threats and non-guidance for Army personnel blogging, finally, a 2 star steps up to the plate.

BZ, MG Oates, CG of Task Force Mountain:

> "There are some concerns by some people, based on the nature of our hierarchical organization, who feel this is inappropriate — going around the chain of command," Major General Michael Oates, the commander of the Army's Task Force Mountain, tells Danger Room. "It is not in fact going around the chain of command; it allows us to connect to the chain of command in ways we have not been able to experience before."

default watermark

Category

1. Army

Date Created
January 18, 2009
Author
admin