

Ropeyarn Sunday “Sea Stories” and Open Trackbacks

Description

And he said, when the lines were singled: “You did everything I’d do, but 30 seconds later.”

It is a real statement made to me, after morryng at Naval Weapons Station, Yorktown, VA for an offload of ordnance.

about 45 minutes earlier, Captain Maixner asked “Have you ever taken one (SPRUANCE Class DD) to the pier without tugs?”

What brought this stroy back from the memory banks is the current events...of how one can sit and listen to someone for 20+ years, then decide what is being said is depicable...

More later...work calls...but...it is a good story about life aboard a Navy vessel...

Category

1. "Sea Stories"
2. History
3. Military
4. Military History
5. Navy
6. Open Trackbacks

Date Created

May 7, 2008

Author

admin

default watermark