

DC MilBlogging Conference

Description

Some earlier info...

The first session is over and the discussion was centered on the purpose and (implied) the responsibility of MilBloggers. I'm sure the main site is going to cover this well.

The side discussions have been interesting. After thinking Neptunus Lex was this completely amazing writer of the "Rythms" blogvel, I now know he has had assistance from a ghost....well, it's still good anyhow, and I understand how the ghost writing made the detail of another area fit the overall "look and feel" of reality the Lex so masterfully weaves into the online story.

More later, but this is "from my perspective," something that was highlighted as to what we can do best in the MilBlogging universe.
