

Memorial Day: Chip in for the Future of a Fallen Marine's Daughter

Description

So, how about helping out a new mom and daughter who lost their Husband/Father in Afghanistan?

If you're close to the Tampa bay area, or in it, get down to Paddy Burke's Irish Pub tomorrow (5/29/10) from 1800 til 2100 (6PM til 9PM for the rest of you) (100 4th St S. St Pete) and make a donation in memory of CPL Jonathon Proto, USMC.

His widow, who is still very much a Marine Wife and troop supporter has put together a fun time for those who also want to say thanks to one who has fallen in the line of duty. Put some of your hard earned money in Ariana's trust fund for later on. Details here, at A Little Bit of Pink in a World of Camo.

The flyer features a central logo with the letters 'H', 'O', and 'T' on stars, with 'St. Pete's' above and 'Helping Our Troops' below. It includes a quote: "Greater love hath no man than this that a man lay down his life for his friends". Three photographs show a soldier being embraced, a baby, and a couple in wedding attire. The event details are: May 29, 2010, 6pm-9pm at Paddy Burkes Irish Pub, 100 - 4th Street South, St. Petersburg, Florida. Live Music by "Talk to Mark". A $1 Bud Select is provided with military or veteran ID. Prizes include XFC tickets, salon services, dining certificates, framed art work, sunset cruise, kickboxing lessons, and family portrait packages. Contact Lynn Hawkins at 727-452-6791 or lynnhawkins77@gmail.com. A Vimeo link is provided for Cpl. Porto's escort film. Donating information is at the end of the film. Logos for Marriott, Massage Envy, Paddy Burkes, Refresh Interiors, and FullColorPrint.com are at the bottom.
